$1,000,000 Mason Valley Plant Is Working Beautifully.The Mason Valley smelter has been "blown in." This is the news the people of this district have been waiting to hear for several months past. It is the best news that we have been able to chronicle for a long time.The 500-ton unit of the smelter was fired up some two weeks ago, and copper ore from the Nevada-Douglas and other properties began to pile up in the smelter bins at that time, but it was not until last Saturday that the first charge of ore went into the furnace.The plant is running perfectly and there have been no hitches or delays since the red metal began to pour out of the furnace. This is phenomenal, and speaks loudly for the efficient construction of the plant under the superintendency of Mr. Jules LeBarthe.The construction of the plant began about fifteen months ago, and when completed to the capacity of 1000 tons per day, will have cost close to $1,000,000. The present capacity of the plant is 500 tons per day, but it is expected that the second furnace will be ready for business inside of 30 days from now.At the present time the smelter is being fed by 350 tons of ore per day from the Nevada-Douglas.about the same amount from the Mason Valley, and a few tons of copper ore, but there will be a great amount of copper ore in the near future.The hauling of the ore from the two big mines is taxing the motive power of the Nevada Copper Belt road to its full capacity and the company is now looking for another engine.There are in the neighborhood of 200 men employed at the smelter, from 160 to 175 at the Nevada-Douglas mine, about 60 at the Mason Valley mine and tram, with more going on daily, and about twenty-five on the Copper Belt railroad. This will make a good, substantial payroll in the district and it will grow larger rather than smaller.The ore being sent to the smelter from the Nevada-Douglas will average between 6 and 7 per cent copper, the Mason Valley ore is said to average 4 to 5 per cent, but we believe will go much higher, while small bunches of copper ore will run from 10 to 50 per cent copper.
Surely the district is on the verge of the most prosperous times it has ever experienced. A feeling of assurance and contentment prevails, and throughout the district renewed activity is being displayed in developing numerous promising prospects.—Yerington Times.ANNUAL STATEMENT.Annual statement of the King

PRODUCING HIGH GRADEAnother carload of high grade ore has been produced by the Great Western mine at Hornsilver. It was brought up from Caprite by the Tidewater road and sampled by the Western Ore Purchasing company. J. M. Russell claims the ore will average about $100 per ton net. He says that it comes from an ore shoot opened up a few feet from where work was stopped in the chute lease, on the 100 level, and development shows that the shoot is fully 120 feet in length, with about two feet of high grade.

receiver of the State Bank & Trust company, is defendant. The complaint states that the plaintiff in 1906 was the owner of one certificate for 145,000 shares of Manhattan Big Four Mining company stock and subsequently obtained another certificate for 2700 shares.It is alleged that the defendant took away, disposed of and converted to his own use the latter certificate which is said to have been worth $1500 at the time of said conversion. Plaintiff demands the sum of $1500, together with interest and costs.LITTLE LOSS.Sheep Inspector W. H. Holt ar-

OVER AN AGED
YUBA MINERCONSPIRACY CHARGED IN CON-TEST FOR GUARDIANSHIP OF CAMPBELL.GOLDFIELD, Jan. 16.—A legal fight that promises to be marked with bitterness, was begun yesterday in the superior court before Judge Coffey on the petition of Henry G. Clinton for appointment as guardian of Patrick Campbell, an aged miner of Yuba county and owner of the New Blue Point Mining company, valued at $250,000, who is alleged to be incompetent to manage his estate.The petition is opposed by two others, James E. Sheehan, former legal adviser of the old miner, in a complaint opposing Clinton's application, charges the latter with conspiracy for ulterior purposes with Bernard Campbell, a distant relative of Patrick Campbell, to secure control of the latter's property. Sheehan asked the court to appoint Father John J. Cantwell as guardian.Another complaint in opposition to Clinton's petition was filed by Attorney Albert W. Kitts, jointly with Albert Rigby, nephew of Patrick Campbell, containing similar allegations of collusion on the part of Clinton and Bernard Campbell.
They are accused of persuading Patrick Campbell to leave the Sisters' hospital in Sacramento, where he has been accustomed to spend most of his time in the last few years.
He accompanied Clinton to San Francisco in August, 1911, and Clinton is charged with having kept him a prisoner at the St. Elmo apartment house, 1452 Devisadero street, since that time. Patrick Campbell is almost 90 years of age.Bernard Campbell, it is stated, obtained a power of attorney from Patrick Campbell and endeavored to obtain certificates of the stock in the New Blue Point Mining company from Attorney Charles J.
Hegerty, with whom it had been deposited in trust. Hegerty refused to give up the stock and he is made a party to the suit.DECLARES A DIVIDEND.The First National Bank of Win-
